Supply Chains and the Value Delivery Network

Supply Chain Partners

Upstream partners include raw material suppliers, components, parts, information, finances, and expertise to create a product or service

Downstream partners include the marketing channels or distribution channels that look toward the customer

Supply Chains and the Value Delivery Network

Supply Chain Views

Supply chain “make and sell” view includes the firm’s raw materials, productive inputs, and factory capacity

Demand chain “sense and respond” view suggests that planning starts with the needs of the target customer, and the firm responds to these needs by organizing a chain of resources and activities with the goal of creating customer value

The Nature and Importance of Marketing Channels

How Channel Members Add Value

Intermediaries offer producers greater efficiency in making goods available to target markets. Through their contacts, experience, specialization, and scale of operations, intermediaries usually offer the firm more than it can achieve on its own.

The Nature and Importance of Marketing Channels

How Channel Members Add Value

- From an economic view, intermediaries transform the assortment of products into assortments wanted by consumers
- Channel members add value by bridging the major time, place, and possession gaps that separate goods and services from those who would use them

The Nature and Importance of Marketing Channels

How Channel Members Add Value

A. Number of contacts without a distributor
 $M \times C = 3 \times 3 = 9$

B. Number of contacts with a distributor
 $M + C = 3 + 3 = 6$
