

RELATIVE CLAUSES

Which of the following sentences contain a mistake in the relative clause? Correct the ones that are wrong.

1. The layout of the components in the advertisement brings to mind thought bubbles or maybe a molecule, which that, actually, will be used more neatly in upcoming advertisements.
2. The elements depicted are basically the molecule, which that was already referred to, and it represents research.
3. It also had a big slogan that said “Say no to no”, which that we saw as a sentence referring to effort.
4. After a closer analysis, we realize that only one bill has a low value, with part of a phrase saying “we trust”, which that leads us to the message “We trust the number one oil company (Shell)”.
5. Comparing it to the next company’s advertisement, which is ConocoPhillips, I noticed that this company is only researching for oil reserves.
6. It consists of six adverts that were separated into three micro-campaigns. ✓ correct
7. Unlike the other picture, whose colors were warm and strong, this one is very cold which what, in addition to the greatness of the factory; ~~it~~ transmits a very impersonal atmosphere.
8. And the last ad is talking about the common good, which what is the environment.
9. The first two elements represent the two opposing ends of the earth (California and Australia), which, if related to the message, give us the idea of Chevron’s commitment to not only their clients, but also the future of the environment.
10. One of the ads showed a giant plug, that represented an extraction facility. (Delete the ,)
11. The first campaign was called “Say no to no”, which was published full of scientific formulas, graphics, chemical symbols, designs, and some unexpected symbols.
12. We can conclude that the company image has changed over time, which can be a great way to influence people by showing the gradual development of their message and values.
13. It depicts a lighted lamp, that stands out from the black background with the orange and yellow colours. (Delete the ,)
14. The other possibility is hybrid cars, which have lower emissions.
15. Next the company suggested thinking about renewable energy as an alternative to using oil, which that is a non-renewable energy.
16. It also shows that the company is a research-led company because of the molecule’s image, which that is associated with investigation.
17. They all show the blue sky, which that is associated with peace and health.

18. This represents the focus on research for new clean energies, ~~that~~ will protect and create a balance between mankind and nature. (Delete the ,) or

This represents the focus on research for new clean energies, which ~~that~~ will protect and create a balance between mankind and nature.
19. The second advertisement, which ~~that~~ was made in the same year, shows us a very particular image that is different from the first one.
20. Finally in the picture there is a lot of light, which ~~that's~~ draws our attention.
21. They use and abuse the colors and short messages in their ads, which are easier to read and ~~to~~ draw the attention of the audience.
22. In the second image, there was a drawing with lab instruments, which ~~that~~ make readers think that Shell is a dynamic company.
23. It is long and with no pictures, which ~~what~~, in my humble opinion, is rather boring and doesn't encourage those who are not interested in the topic to read it.
24. They want to establish a relationship with their customers by using images, ~~that~~ echo each other in order to illustrate the complementary and diversity of Total's viability and vision about the future of energy sources. (Delete the ,)
25. This message is very clear in the next ad, which reflects an investigation centre and nature.
26. On the other hand we have 'Oil prices lift demand for hybrids', which is related to the new industry of hybrid cars, ~~that~~ has been steadily increasing during the past few years. (Delete the , after cars)
27. Questions such as the long payback of investment or uncertain trade-in value are financial questions, ~~that~~ discourage buyers from purchasing a hybrid. (Delete the ,)
28. We have based our entire way of life on this non-renewable resource that may be exhausted within the next few years. correct
29. Of course, all this had an impact on the consumers, who ~~that~~ now tried to use less of this resource.
30. The increase in oil prices made the economy look for a new way of producing commodities that were not so dependent on oil.
31. There was a steady increase in the use of oil which was followed by low prices and abundance. correct
32. The fact that oil has become a scarce resource has lifted its price, which stimulates the production of substitutes such as hybrid petrol electric vehicles.
33. This sets as an example the text 'Oil prices lift demand for hybrids', which ~~that~~ describes creation of new gammas of ecological alternative and less fuel consuming cars such as hybrids.

34. The text explains the importance of what to produce with oil and its derivatives, which ~~that~~ provide fuel for heating, transport and are basic inputs for the manufacture of many household products.
35. The assumption of cheap energy prices on which the economy was based and which ~~that~~ led to the great dependence on oil changed.